

Sinclair
Broadcasting's
decision to force
their stations to
air a documentary
that presents a one
sided depiction of a
presidential candidate days before the election is a
clear attempt to influence the election.

This action, it seems to me, is a
corporate donation
to the Bush
presidential campaign. It doesn't provide equal access. It should not be allowed.

Sinclair's actions
show why we need to strengthen media
ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license
renewal process
needs to involve
more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
